

Grand Rounds

Dr. Jean Bologna, MD

Professor of Dermatology, Acting Chair Department of Dermatology
Yale University School of Medicine

Presents

Cutaneous Manifestations of Monoclonal Gammopathies

Wednesday May 30, 2012

Conference Center and Research Library
Beckman Laser Institute

8:00 to 9 AM Observation

9:00 to 10:00 AM Discussion

10:15 to 11:15 AM Lecture

8-11:15 AM Approved for AMA PRA Category 1 Credits(s)TM.

and

from 5 PM to 7 PM

Dowling Club

University Club

801st Peltason Drive, Irvine, CA 92697

- Have an approach to the laboratory evaluation of a suspected monoclonal gammopathy
- Recognize cutaneous disorders that are associated with a monoclonal gammopathy
- Know the spectrum of skin findings in POEM syndrome

Jean Bologna, MD, is Professor of Dermatology at the Yale University School of Medicine. She has served as President of the Medical Dermatology Society and the Women's Dermatologic Society in addition to serving as Vice-President of the Society of Investigative Dermatology, the International Society of Dermatology, and the American Dermatological Association. She has also been elected to serve on the Board of Directors of the American Academy of Dermatology and the American Board of Dermatology. In the latter organization, she is Chair of the Certifying Examination. Jean is the senior editor of the textbook Dermatology and an associate editor of the textbook Dermatological Signs of Internal Disease. She is the founder of the Clinical Scholars program of the SID and author of over 180 articles and book chapters.

Target Audience: The target audience for the Department of Dermatology Grand Rounds is attending physicians, fellows, community physicians and other health care professionals.

Statement of Purpose: The format will include lectures detailing diagnosis, management and therapeutic interventions for selected dermatologic topics, and occasional case presentations with review of interesting cases. Clinical test results and radiographic findings will also be included. Current landmark research findings will be discussed.

Accreditation statement: The University of California, Irvine School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Dermatologic Grand Rounds Global Objectives

1. Summarize core competencies in Dermatology as identified by the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education.
2. Assessment and management of complex skin diseases including but not limited to cancer.
3. Cite current research findings in the field of dermatology and dermatopathology.
4. Discuss key issues in the delivery of dermatologic care to a wide range of therapeutic modalities and combination therapy to increase efficacy and minimize side effect profiles.

Designation statement:

The University of California, Irvine, School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 3.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits(s)[™]. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

DISCLOSURE

Lecturer: Dr. Bologna has disclosed no affiliations, arrangements or financial agreements that could be a potential conflict of interest with this presentation. These lecturers have further disclosed that this lecture will include no discussion of unlabelled, unapproved drugs or devices.

Course Director/Planners: Kenneth G. Linden, MD, PhD and Christopher B. Zachary, FRCP, have disclosed that, as course director and planners they have no affiliations, arrangements or financial agreements, which could be perceived as a potential conflict of interest. Kristen Kelly, MD, has disclosed that, as a course planner, she receives research grant support from Graceway Pharmaceuticals and Candela Corporation, and that she provides research support for Light Sciences Oncology and Nitto Denko, which could be perceived as a potential conflict of interest in the planning of this course. Kristen Kelly, MD, has disclosed that based on her potential conflict of interest, to the best of her ability, she will ensure that any speakers or content she suggests are free from commercial bias. She will also excuse herself from planning activity content in which she has a conflict of interest. Judy Hobert has also disclosed that, as an administrative staff, she has no affiliations, arrangements or financial agreements, which could be perceived as a potential conflict of interest.

ADA Statement: In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, contact us three days in advance about special needs for any attendee. Contact Judy Hobert at jhobert@uci.edu or 949-824-4405.

This activity is in compliance with California Assembly Bill 1195 which requires continuing medical education activities with patient care components to include curriculum in the subjects of cultural and linguistic competency. For specific information regarding Bill 1195 and definitions of cultural and linguistic competency, please visit the CME web site at www.cme.uci.edu.